

Who controls the banks, they seem to do and get by with whatever they want and can ruin someone and you don,t have no where to turn for I have lost home , thousand of dollars due to bank errors but no judge wants to go against a bank even if you are in the right for the banks have became so powerful that they are controlling you , job why should you bekept from a good job because of a bank. I lost home from a bank by money missing in acct and all the bank would say was it came from internet and that time I didn,t have any internet acct but someone took over 90 withdraws frommy acct costing me better than 22,000 dollars and my credit is no good because of it and my new home is gone so who controls what and how a bank can do things????
